Mr. Bobby N. Harmon

[REDACTED]

RE: Farmer v. Harmon, Case No. CV05-00030
U.S. District Court, District of Hawaii

Dear Mr. Harmon:

James Nicholson, the former Successor Trustee in In re Bobby Norris Harmon and Thereza Zulueta Harmon, dba Orbits Hawaii, Case No. 99-4339, has been replaced by David Farmer. Please be advised that all future references to the Bankruptcy Successor-Trustee are to Mr. Farmer.

As you are aware, on April 27, 2007, U.S. District Court Judge David Alan Ezra, issued an Order denying your most recent attempt to place your conspiracy theory claims before the federal court. Concurrent with the denial of your reconsideration motion, Judge Ezra also issued an Order stating "that Defendant's future filings in the instant case [are to] be screened by the Court before they are accepted for filing" because "Defendant continues to file motions containing essentially the same arguments, without providing additional law or facts ...".

On behalf of the current Successor-Trustee as well as the involuntary recipients of your numerous email communications, we ask that you: (a) accept the ruling of the U.S. District Court as set forth in its Order dated April 27, 2007; (b) comply with the prior Orders issued by the U.S. District Court, the Bankruptcy Court and the American Arbitration Association; (c) cease all further attempts to publish or re-post any "Protected Subject Matters" on an alternate website; and (d) finally terminate the long-standing letter writing campaign which you have pursued in violation of the Settlement Agreement entered into by the parties in 2000.

We have reviewed portions of your new website at www.kycbs.net. We have also conducted a brief review of the materials posted at http://web.archive.org/web/*/the-catbird-seat.net. The materials posted at the archive site appear to be an unadulterated transplant of the offending materials which had previously been accessible at www.the-catbird-seat.net, the website terminated by Yahoo! Small Business Hosting in accordance with Judge Ezra's order.

As an articulate individual who has evidenced the ability to comprehend the written English language, your continuance to feign ignorance by requesting guidance as to the definition of "Protected Subject Matter" is an insult to your readers. As you are well aware, "Protected Subject Matter" was specifically defined by the Arbitrator in Paragraphs 24.a. through 24.h. of her Findings of Fact, Conclusions of Law and Award dated October 6, 2004, a copy of which is enclosed for your reference. Furthermore, the definition of "Protected Subject Matter" was reiterated on Pages 10 and 11 of the Order Denying Defendant Bobby N. Harmon's: (1) Motion to Abate the Order Granting Plaintiff's Motion for Contempt Against Defendant Bobby N. Harmon of Final Judgment Filed August 22, 2006; (2) Motion for Order that the Original Settlement Agreement and the Arbitration Award Against Bobby N. Harmon Filed August 18, 2006 be Declared Void; and (3) Motion for Damages filed on February 28, 2007 in the U.S. District Court for the District of Hawaii. In both instances, the definition of "Protected Subject Matter" is clear, coherent and easy to comprehend. The fact that you have chosen to simply archive the offending material onto a readily accessible website is unacceptable and belies the sincerity of your request for guidance.

When Yahoo! Small Business Web Hosting, at the behest of the U.S. District Court, shut down www.the-catbird-seat.net in April 2007, we had hoped you would accept the turn of events and take the opportunity to move forward with your life. Unfortunately, you have chosen otherwise and continue to violate the peace and sanctity of the numerous involuntary recipients of your unwanted and unheeded correspondence.

Nevertheless, we sincerely hope that at some point in the near future, you finally accept the wisdom of the Arbitration Association and the Courts and choose to apply your considerable energy to a more constructive and positive goal.

Sincerely,

STEVEN GUTTMAN

Enclosure
